Thank you for your order for spare parts, replacement, spare or master keys.

We must draw your attention to the potential danger of using spare parts, or issuing additional keys.

Trapped key interlocks control procedural events in a strict sequence. If this sequence is altered through the use of spare parts, replacement, spare or master keys, the integrity of your safety system may be compromised, possibly resulting in serious or even fatal injury to persons or damage to processes and plant.

In the wrong hands, keys or spare parts could expose person(s) to the very hazard from which the interlocking system is intended to protect them.

I am sure you appreciate the need to fully control and document the use of spare parts and additional keys.

In order to process your order without delay, please complete this form signifying acceptance of responsibility for the use and control of spare parts and/or additional key(s).

Best Regards
